Dear Parents & Carers,

We are thrilled to announce that Electric Umbrella will be performing for our Year 1–6 children on Monday, 12th January.

Electric Umbrella is a vibrant music charity that champions learning-disabled and neurodivergent individuals. They became well known following their appearance on Britain's Got Talent in 2025, where they received Simon Cowell's Golden Buzzer.

To show our support for inclusivity and stand in solidarity with Electric Umbrella, we are encouraging all children to 'Be Bold, Be Bright, Be Yellow' and wear something yellow on Monday 12th January, the day of the performance.

If your child has anything yellow, whether it's a t-shirt, socks, hair accessories, or something with yellow on it, they are very welcome to wear this alongside their school uniform or PE Kit (if this is worn on a Monday).

There is absolutely no need to buy anything special, and if your child doesn't have anything yellow, that's completely fine too.

In addition, our Early Years children will be taking part in some age-appropriate work linked to the charity and its ethos, helping to explore themes such as inclusion, kindness, and celebrating differences.

We are not asking for any donations; however, if you would like to support this wonderful charity, you can do so by following the link below:

Thank you, as always, for your continued support.
