Handmade wood-turned gifts for The Haven at Bridgewater and Woodfield School

Keith Goddard is a keen woodturner and also a freemason, who has helped us in our fundraising for The Haven. Local masonic lodges and The Mark Benevolent Fund have contributed over £70,000 to The Haven fundraising efforts. Keith and his wife Pat are on the back left of the photo, with other representatives from the Freemasons visited us at the Light Trail Event last year. We are very grateful for their help.

Keith has created these wood-turned items to sell for charity, with wood mainly donated by Berkhamsted School.

He is currently supporting Woodfield Special School in Hemel Hempstead. They are fundraising for a wheelchair accessible minibus to support their children with mobility issues.

Half of the funds raised by the wood turning sale will go to the BSA, half to Woodfield School. Pop in and buy some before the end of term! Card or phone payments accepted.
