Family learning - w/c 21st September

Another wonderful week in Ducklings. The children are becoming more comfortable and confident in their routines and exploring the classroom.

In our morning sessions we have been reading "The Gingerbread Man" where the children have then been retelling their story using sounds only, acting out the story and creating an alternative picnic for Mr Fox so that he doesn't have to keep eating the poor Gingerbread Man. On Friday we went outside and played some parachute games and saw how high we could bounce all the ballads.

In the afternoons we have been reading "Veg Patch Party!" We then talked about what our favourite vegetable was and made a list, then we became absolute superstars learning how to cut vegetables to make our own soup, which we tasted - delicious !!!! We have enjoyed our time in forest school learning the rules and exploring the forest, looking out for fairies.

Thank you to the wonderful parents who have volunteered for all of our class roles. We really appreciate you giving up your time to help the school.

For family learning this week please could your child retell you the story of the Gingerbread Man. They might want to act it out, make marks giving meaning to them, retell it through song or any other way they can imagine it. After I would love you to sit and read a story to your child encouraging them to join in with the fun repeated refrains.

Have a lovely weekend.

The Ducklings team.
